

2017 Canadian Sociological Association Conference

May 29th

10:30am, Ph.D. candidate Jing Zhao will be presenting his paper, The Interaction of Migration and Reproduction: Fertility Process of Chinese Canadian, in the roundtable “Rethinking Immigrant Settlement Roundtable: Women, Youth and Seniors II.”

10:30am, Alumni Hélène Frohard--Dourlent will chair the session “Trans/Gender Children”, where she will also present her paper, Towards embracing gender diversity in schools: Tension between individual accommodation and cultural change.

1:30pm, Honorary Professor Francesco Duina will participate in a panel on the work of John Hall (McGill). This is for a book on Hall (edited by Francesco) forthcoming with the Univ. of Toronto Press

3:30pm, Ph.D. candidate Emily Truong will be presenting her paper, Diversifying the student population? The persistence of class inequality in university admission processes, in the roundtable “Problematizing Policy II: Roundtable.”

3:30pm, Ph.D. candidates François Lachapelle and Patrick John Burnett will be presenting their paper, Canadianization Movement, American Imperialism, and Scholastic Stratification: Professorial Evidence from 1977 to 2017, in the roundtable “Issues in the Sociology of Education.” Their paper won this year’s best student paper at the CSA conference.

5:15pm, Ph.D. candidate David Champagne will be presenting his paper, A Political Economy of Ecological Depletion? Water and Environmental Justice in Neoliberal California, in the session “New Theory in Economic Sociology and Political Economy.”

5:15pm, Prof. Amin Ghaziani will be presenting on an invited panel titled “Comparing Conservative Backlash and Its Consequences on Gender and Sexuality Movements in Canada and the United States.”

5:15pm, Alumni Hélène Frohard--Dourlent and Elizabeth Saewyc will be presenting their paper, Modern medicalized understandings of transness: Youth perspectives from the Canadian Trans Youth Health Survey, in the roundtable “Omnibus Session: Health” (Jaimie Veal of University of Waikato and Tracey Peter of University of Manitoba were also authors of the paper).

May 30th

at 8:30am, UBC Ph.D. graduate from EDCI Curriculum and instruction Marcia Braundy will be presenting her paper, Increasing women's success in apprenticeships & skilled trades: Canadian case studies, in the session "Feminist Interdisciplinarity: Women's Experiences in and Resistance Against Hostile Work Environments."

8:30am, Ph.D. candidates Nicole Malette and Emily Truong Cheung, with Prof. Wendy Roth will be presenting their paper, 'Too Asian?': Differences in International and Domestic University Student Campus Involvement, in the session "Race and Identity in the Sociology of Education."

8:30am, UBC MSC Astronomy Alumni Emily Riddle will be presenting her paper, Red Lights on the Prairies: A Nehiyaw Feminist Critique, in the session "Red Lights, Sex Work, and Settler Colonialism on the Prairies."

3:30pm, Prof. Deborah Dergousoff will present her paper, Borders, Boundaries and the Challenge of Collaborative Knowledge Production in Institutional Ethnography in the session "Ethnographies of Front-Line Work."

5:15pm, Prof. Neil Guppy will be a keynote speaker after winning the 2016 CSA-SCS Outstanding Contribution Award. He will be talking about how sociology can contribute positively to the defense of academic freedom, a fundamental value in higher education that is increasingly under scrutiny and attack.

May 31st

8:30am, Prof. and CSA President Rima Wilkes will be on a panel titled "Practical advice on communicating sociological research effectively", where panelists will share their experiences and offer practical advice for other sociologists.

8:30am, Ph.D. candidate Mabel Ho has organized the workshop "Junior Scholars Workshop II: Migration, Identity and Belonging", where she will also be presenting her paper, Resources and Channeling: How Ethnic Organizations Facilitate Transnational Practices.

10:30am, Ph.D. candidate Mabel Ho has organized the workshop "Junior Scholars Workshop I: Migration and Mental Health."

10:30am, interdisciplinary Ph.D. candidate Blake Hawkins will be presenting his paper, Is it still a possibility?: Community--based research in the neoliberalized Canadian academy, in the roundtable "Strategies to Resist Corporatization in Canada's Universities."

10:30am, Prof. Gillian Creese will be organizing and presenting in the session “The Second Generation: Assessing Long-Term Outcomes of Migration.” Her paper is titled Bodies in/out of place: Second-generation African-Canadians reply to ‘where are you from?’

1:30pm, Ph.D. candidate Hazel Hollingdale will be presenting her paper, Gender Diversity and Risk Outcomes in the Finance Sector: When the “Business Case” for Diversity Isn’t Enough, in the session “Understanding Inequalities at the Workplace.”

3:30pm, Ph.D. candidates François Lachapelle and Patrick John Burnett will be presenting their award winning paper, Canadianization Movement, American Imperialism, and Scholastic Stratification: Professorial Evidence from 1977 to 2017, on an invited panel for the “Challenges to the integrity of Academic Hiring Practices in the Corporate University” session.

3:30pm, Prof. Deborah Dergousoff is the organizer and chair for the session “Institutional Ethnography: Understanding the 'Work' of Collective Liberation” (as part of the Society for Socialist Studies Conference).

3:30pm, Prof. Catherine Corrigan-Brown and Ph.D. candidate Mabel Ho will be presenting the paper, Funding the Protest? The Impact of Government Funding on Protest Among Women's, Environmental, and Indigenous Groups in The State and Social Movements, in the session “The State and Social Movements.”

3:30pm, Ph.D. candidate Nicole Malette will be presenting her paper, The College Condition: A Multilevel Examination of Campus Contexts and Undergraduate Mental Health Service Use, in the session “Omnibus: Sociology of Health.”

3:30pm, MA student Adam Vanzella-Yang will be presenting his paper, The class bases of attendance at cultural activities in Canada, in the panel “Culture and Inequality II.”

3:30pm, Ph.D. candidate Cary Wu will be presenting his paper, Growing up with Trust: Family, Community, and Trust among Adolescents Ages 10--15, in the panel “Intergenerational Mobility.”

3:30pm, Ph.D. candidate Valerie Berseth will be presenting her paper Eyes and Ears on the Ground: Indigenous Guardian Programs and Environmental Stewardship in Canada and Australia in the roundtable panel “Omnibus Session on Indigenous/Settler Relations and Decolonization.”

3:30pm, Adam Howe will be presenting his paper, Constructing ‘Canadians’: Indigenous & Settler Political Identities in Speeches from the Throne, 1867--2015, in the roundtable panel “Omnibus Session on Indigenous/Settler Relations and Decolonization.”

7pm, Prof. and CSA President Rima Wilkes will be a panelist on the panel “Committing Sociology after Trump’s Election.”

June 1st

8:30am, Ph.D. candidate Tanvi Sirari will be presenting her paper, Seeing 'Whiteness' through the prism of interracial intimacy, in the session "Exploring the Configurations of Whiteness I."

8:30am, Political Science Ph.D. candidate Alison James will be presenting her paper, Theorizing Resistance at the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, in the session "Reconciling Accounts of Injustice: Critical Perspectives on the Production of Truth about Historical Injustices."

10:30am, Prof. Deborah Dergousoff will present her paper, Women and Revolution in Kyrgyzstan (as part of the Society for Socialist Studies Conference).

1:30pm, Ph.D. candidate Edward Haddon will be presenting his paper, Subjective Inequality and Social Class: Evidence from 28 Countries, in the session "Omnibus: Sociology of Culture / Cultural Sociology."

3:30pm, MA student Adam Vanzella-Yang and Prof. Nathan Lauster will be presenting their paper, Home in Public, in the session "Sociology of Home".

3:30pm, Undergrad student Kacey Ng will present her paper, Shifting Landscapes: Community and Care in Vancouver's Chinatown, in the session "Sociology of Home."

3:30pm, Prof. Oral Robinson will present his paper, Transnational Social Networks and International Students Migration Decisions, in the session "Social Networks." The paper was also co-written by Kara Somerville of the University of Saskatchewan.

-

Congratulations to Prof. Sean Lauer for winning the 2017 CSA Angus Reid Applied Sociology Award.

Congratulations to Ph.D. candidates Francois Lachapelle and Patrick John Burnett for winning the 2017 CSA Best Student Paper Award.